

Exercise 5.2.2

Kevin Martin
CIS675 - Syracuse University

February 6, 2020

If we find a minimum spanning tree  $T$  in a graph, and add 1 to every weight of every edge in the graph, it is still a minimum spanning tree. This is because all the weights increased equally, so the edges with the minimum weights are still accurate.